Dang Hoan My is a partner at Indochine Counsel, where he co-leads the Corporate and M&A, and Projects & Infrastructure practice groups. With extensive experience in securities and capital markets, as well as public and private mergers and acquisitions, My specializes in takeovers of publicly listed companies, share and asset sale and purchase transactions, investments in both established corporations and start-ups, joint ventures, and corporate restructuring. He has a proven track record in managing both buy-side and sell-side transactions across a range of industries, particularly complex cross-border deals involving targets or acquirers from multiple regions.

He has substantial experience working in inward investment, corporate restructuring, corporate & commercial transactions, energy and resource sectors. He understands clients' commercial issues and grasps their business needs. He has advised on the following notable transactions:

- Advised for TLC Modular Group in relation to investment by Goldman Sachs Asset Management.
- Acted for Truong Hai Auto Corporation (THACO) for acquisition of a top hypermarket store in Vietnam (E-Mart Vietnam).
- Acted for THACO for acquisition of HAGL Agrico (an agriculture company listed on Ho Chi Minh Stock Exchange) for investment in agriculture.
- Advised for Sinenergy Group to develop a new solar power project with capacity over 100MWp.
- Advised for AIG Asia Ingredients Corporation (ASIA Group – a public company) for group restructuring and other corporate matters.
