Le Mai Phuong is the managing associate of Indochine Counsel's Hanoi office. She joined the firm in October 2024, bringing with her extensive legal experience from leading law firms in Vietnam and PwC Legal Vietnam.

Phuong's expertise spans a broad range of practice areas, such as mergers & acquisitions, investment, corporate & commercial transactions, regulatory & compliance, project development, and technology, media & telecoms. She has successfully advised both domestic and international clients on high-profile transactions in key industries such as energy, natural resources, education, pharmaceuticals, transportation, electronics manufacturing, real estate, and construction. With a pragmatic and solution-oriented approach, Phuong is well-versed in Vietnamese licensing and regulatory frameworks. Her deep understanding of clients' priorities and business environments enables her to craft tailored legal strategies that not only address complex challenges but also ensure compliance and support clients' commercial goals.
